Forward 1

As life runs on, the road grows Strange with faces new . . .
—Lowell

Administration and Faculty 16

You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him to find it within himself.
—Galileo

Seniors 42

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.
—Longfellow

Student Life 76

In the lexicon of youth, which fate Reserves for a bright manhood, there is No such word as fail.
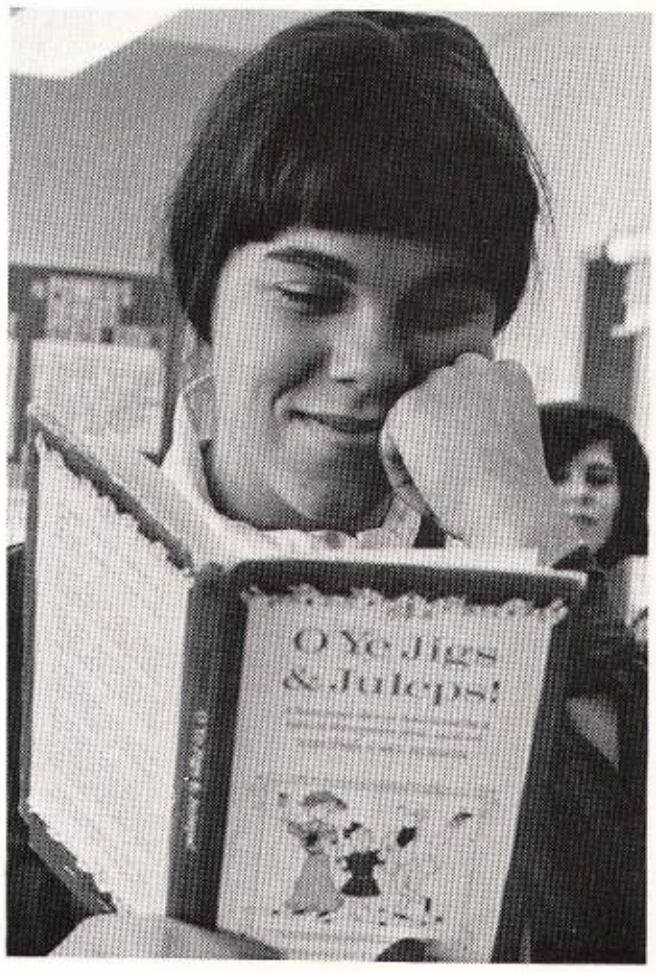
—Bulwer-Lytton

Underclassmen 98

. . . They are a race that never yet has been discovered. And the whole secret, power, and knowledge of their own discovery is locked within them — they know it, feel it, have the whole thing in them.
—Wolfe

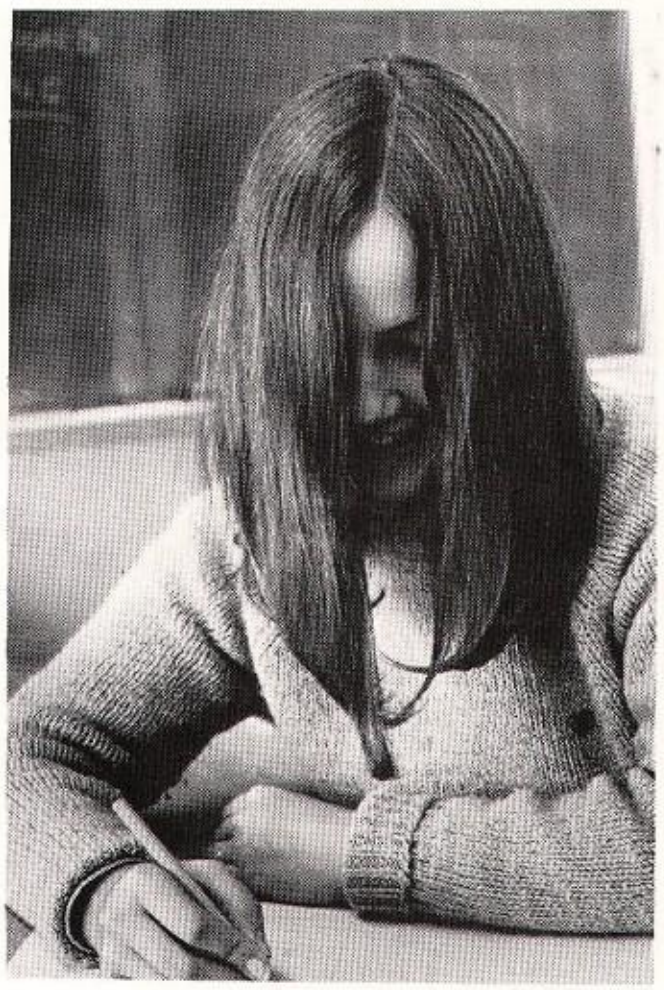
Sports 114

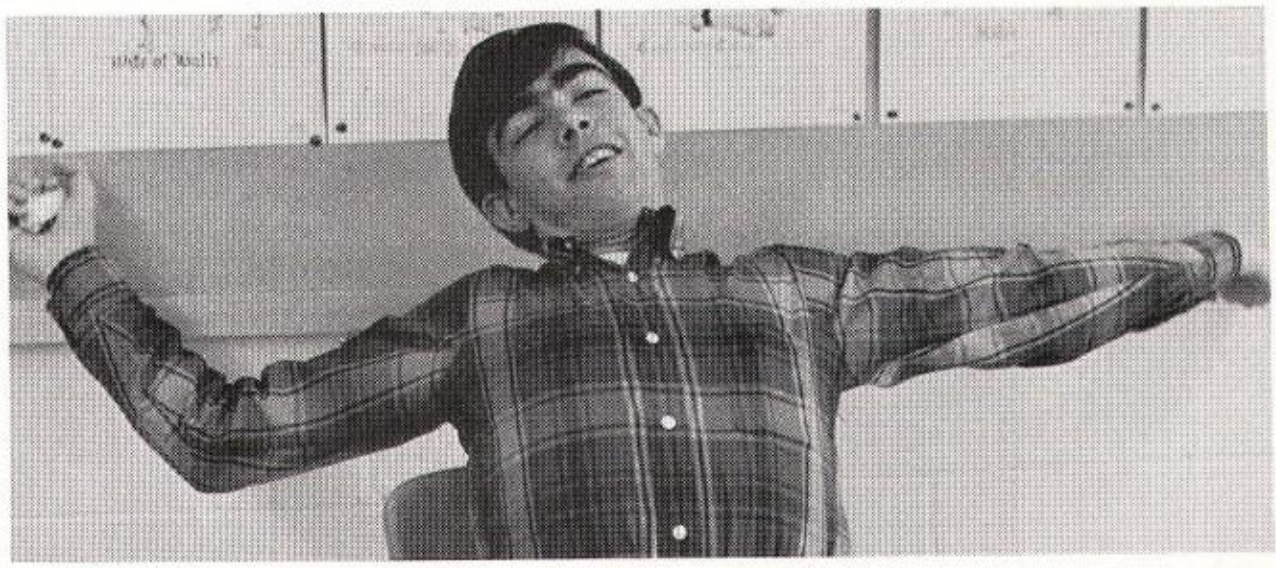
Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
—McCrae



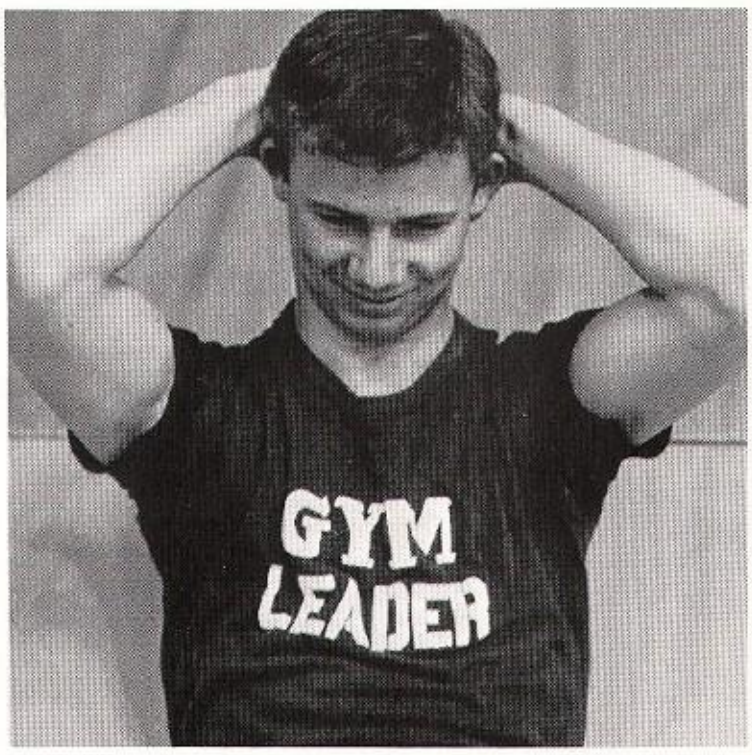
There are many faces to Methacton . . .

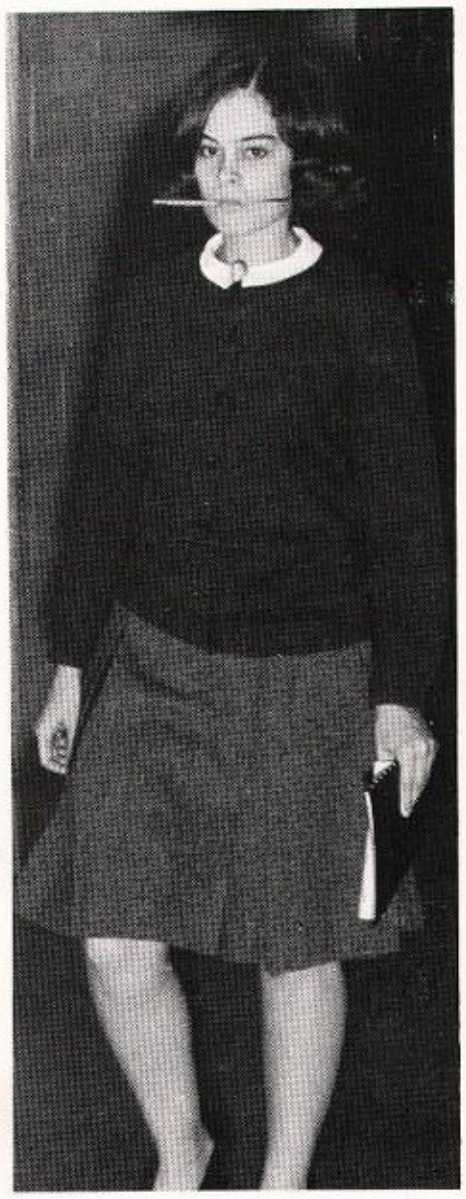
It's clever, but is it art?
— Kipling





He enjoyed long stretches of pure delight . . . and moments of high, proud exultation . . .
— Morison





Nothing ever succeeds which exuberant spirits have not helped to produce.
— Nietzsche

The faces of meditation,

All to myself I think of you, think of the things we used to do, think of the things we used to say, think of each happy bygone day, sometimes I sigh, and sometimes I smile, but I keep each olden, golden while to myself.
—Nesbit

frustration, or disappointment . . .

The strongest man is is the one who stands most alone.
—Ibsen

Thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears.
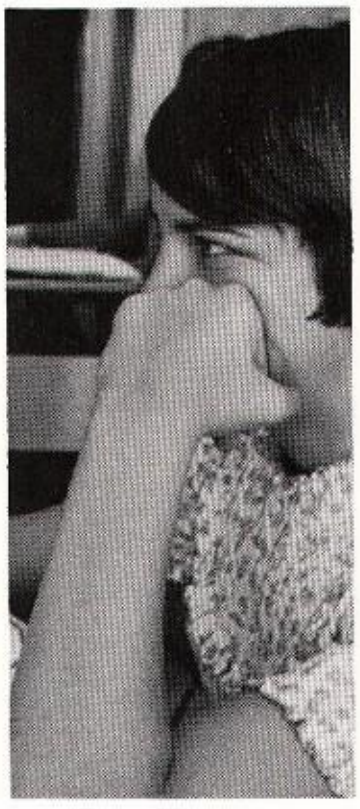
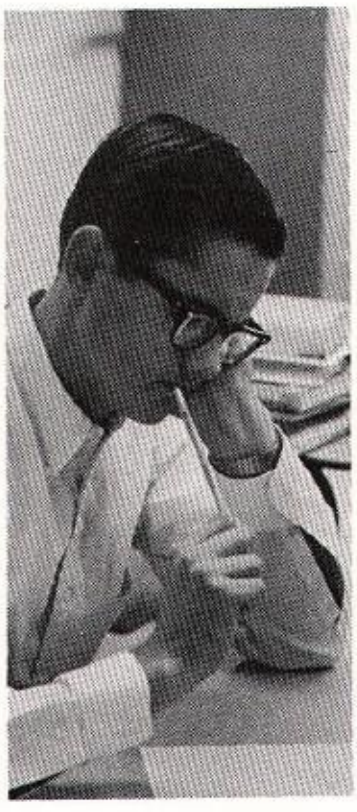
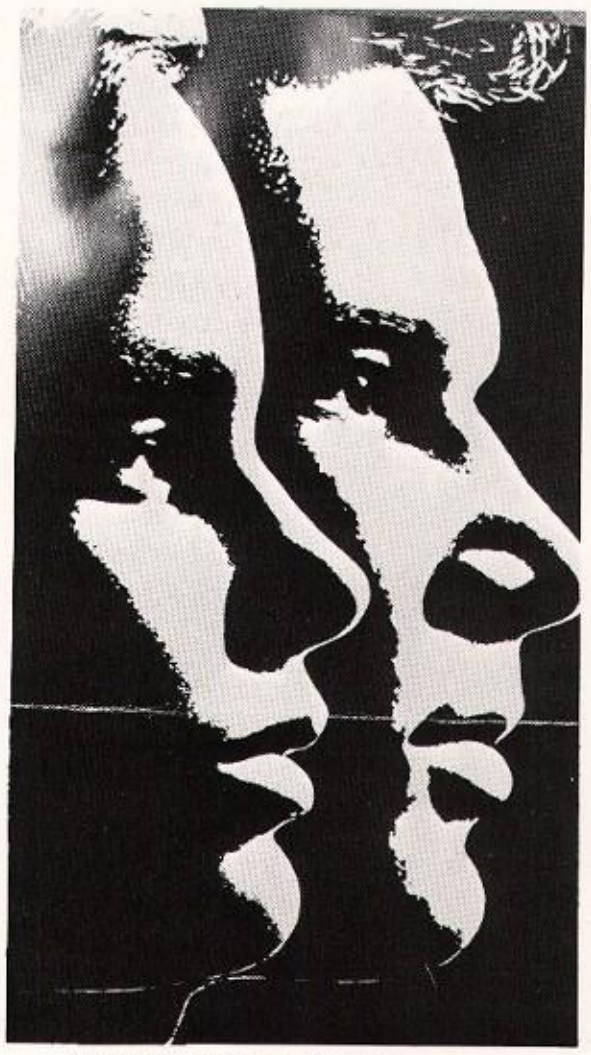
—Wordsworth

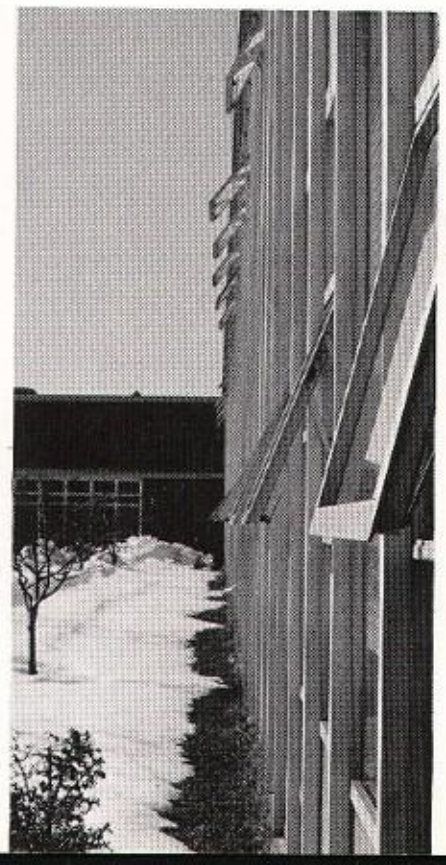




That inward eye which is the bliss of solitude.
Wordsworth



O world invisible, we view thee,
O world intangible, we touch thee.
O world unknowable, we know thee.
Thompson



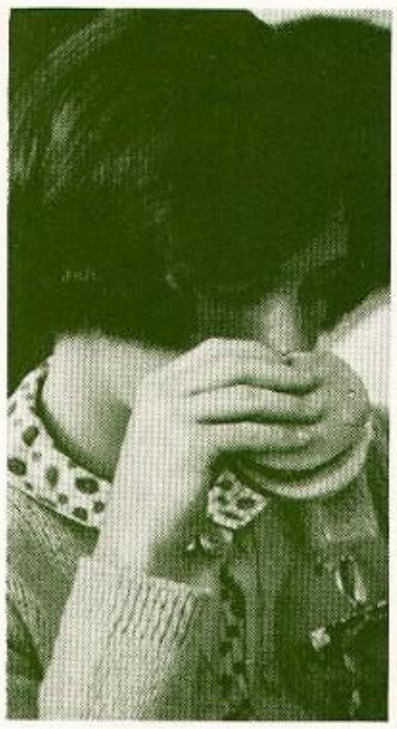
The face of solitude—

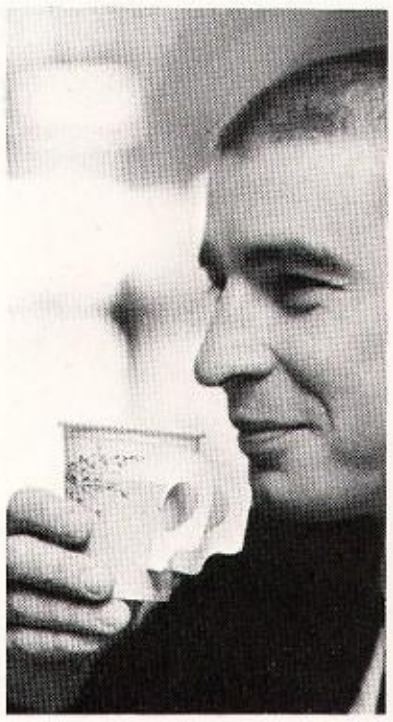
shadows of thoughts that come and go. . .

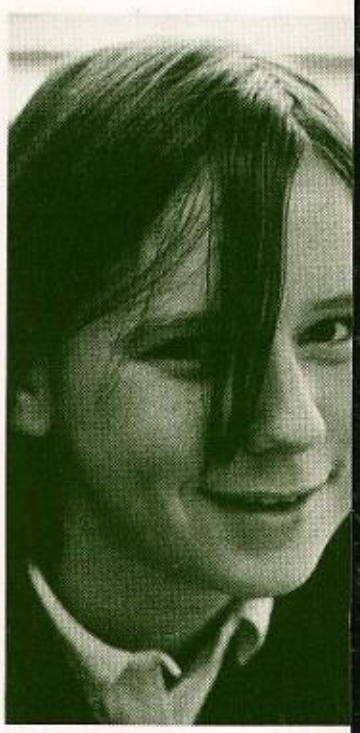
We are no other than a moving row Of Magic Shadow-shapes that come and go.
—Fitzgerald

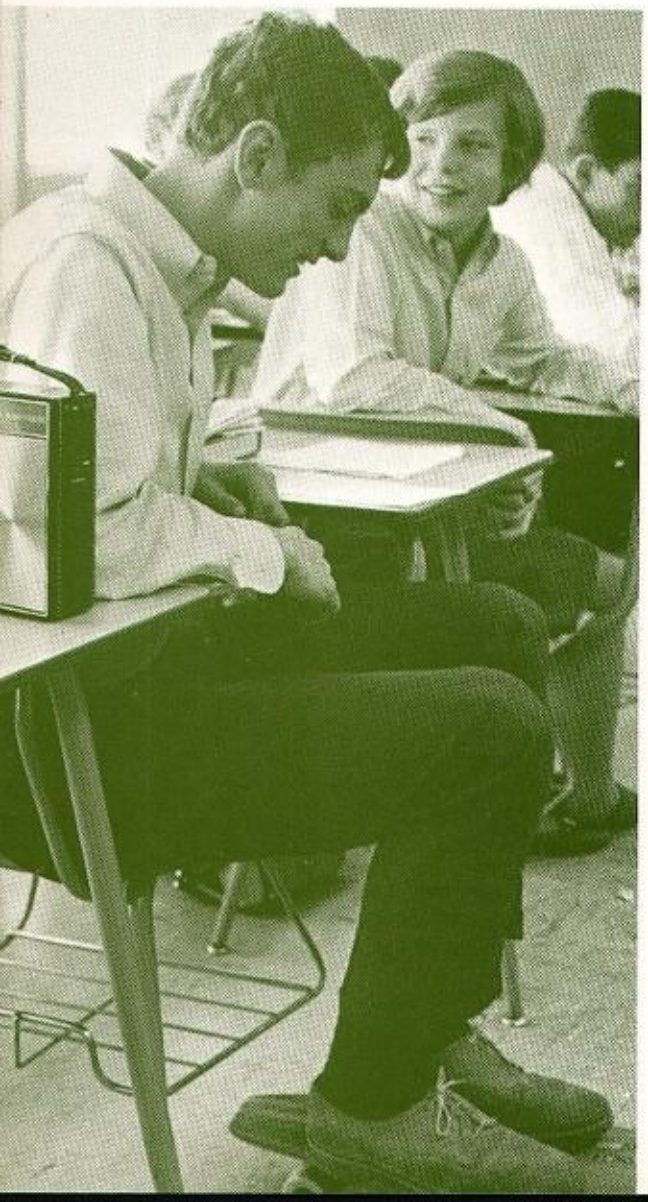
The face of school that builds

The windows of my soul I throw wide open to the sun.
—Whittier









A dwarf is small, even if he stands on a mountain; a collossus keeps his height, even if he stands in a well.
—Seneca

I can tell where my own shoe pinches me.
—Ceryantes

memories of fun—

You must look into people as well as at them.
—Chesterfield

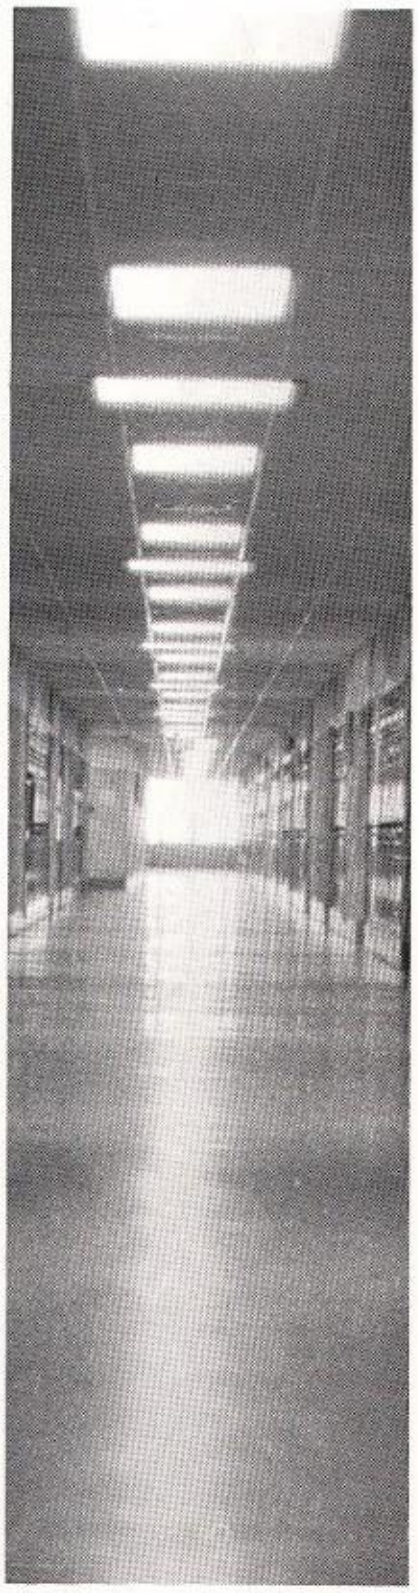
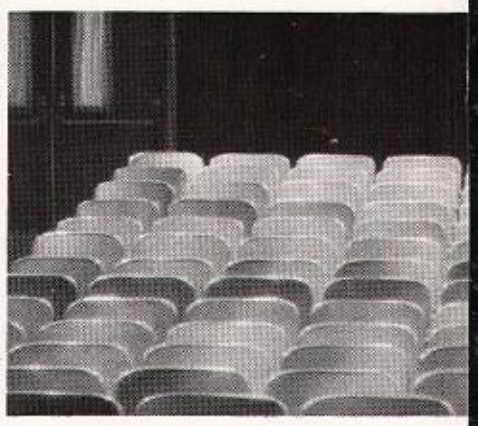
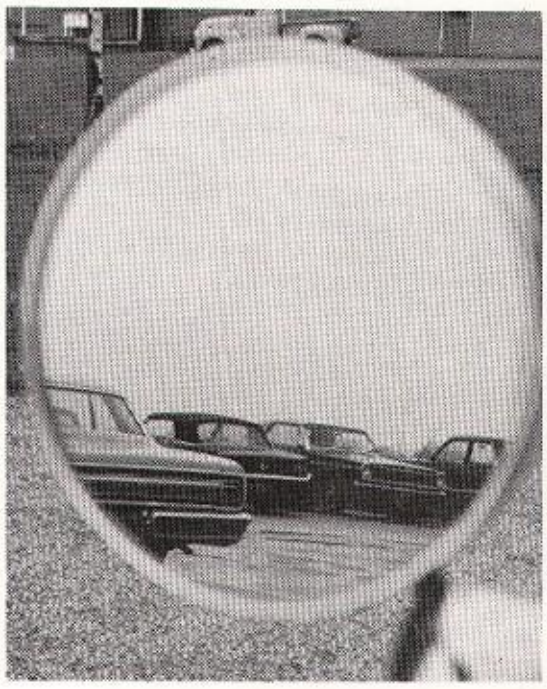
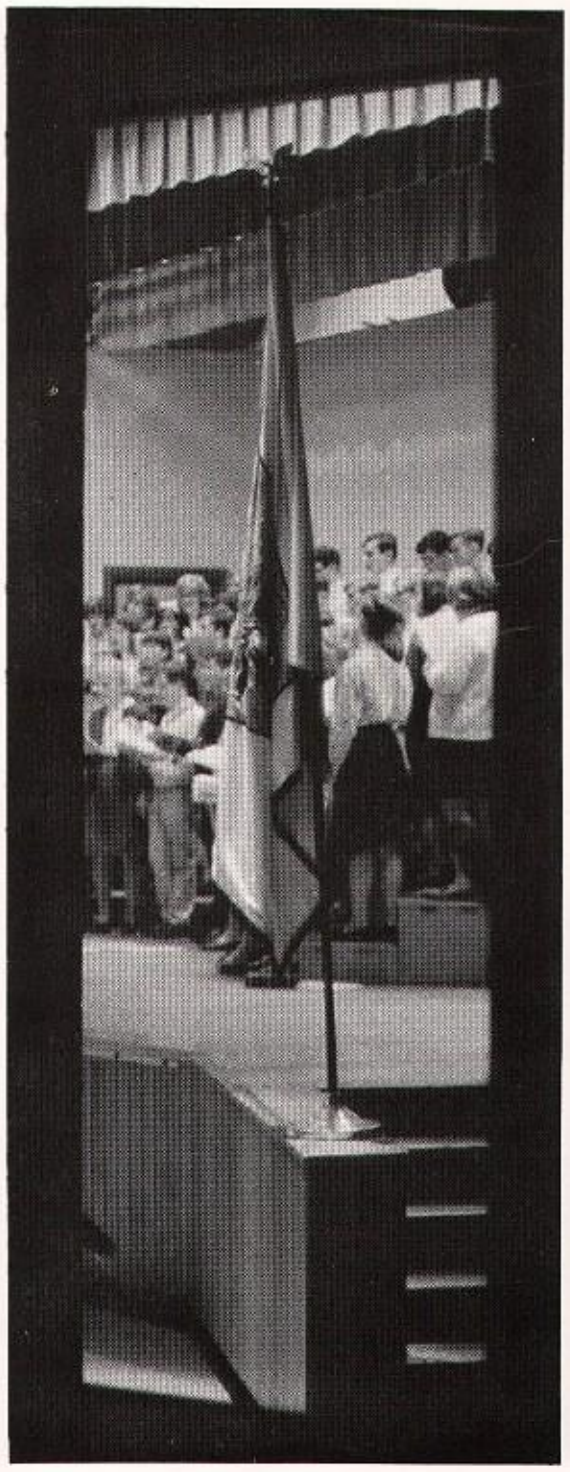
and play.





The face of a deserted building





Come out of thyself,
Stand in the open;
Within thy heart wilt thou hear
The response of all the world.
—Tagore

or crowded hall, a bleak day with Everything will come if a man will only wait.

—Tancred

I am the people—the mob—the crowd—the mass.
Do you know that all the great work of the world is done through me?
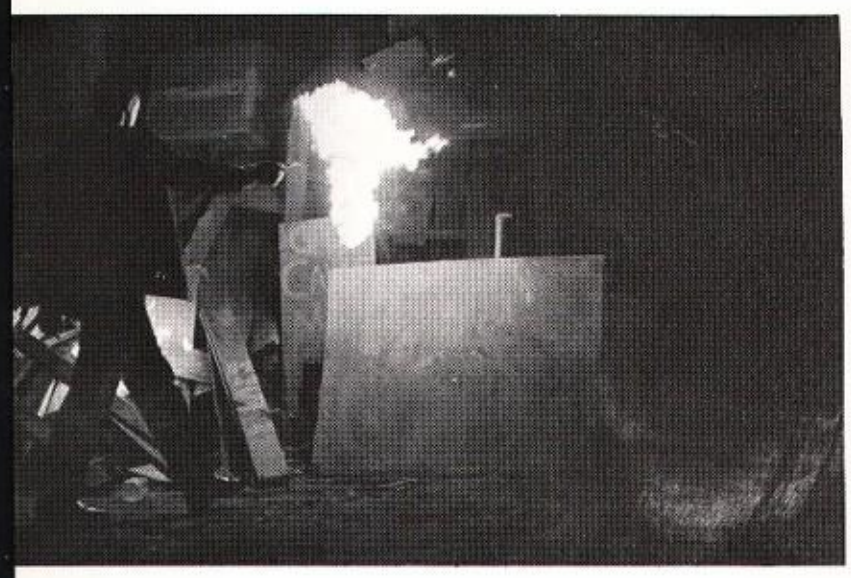
—Sandburg



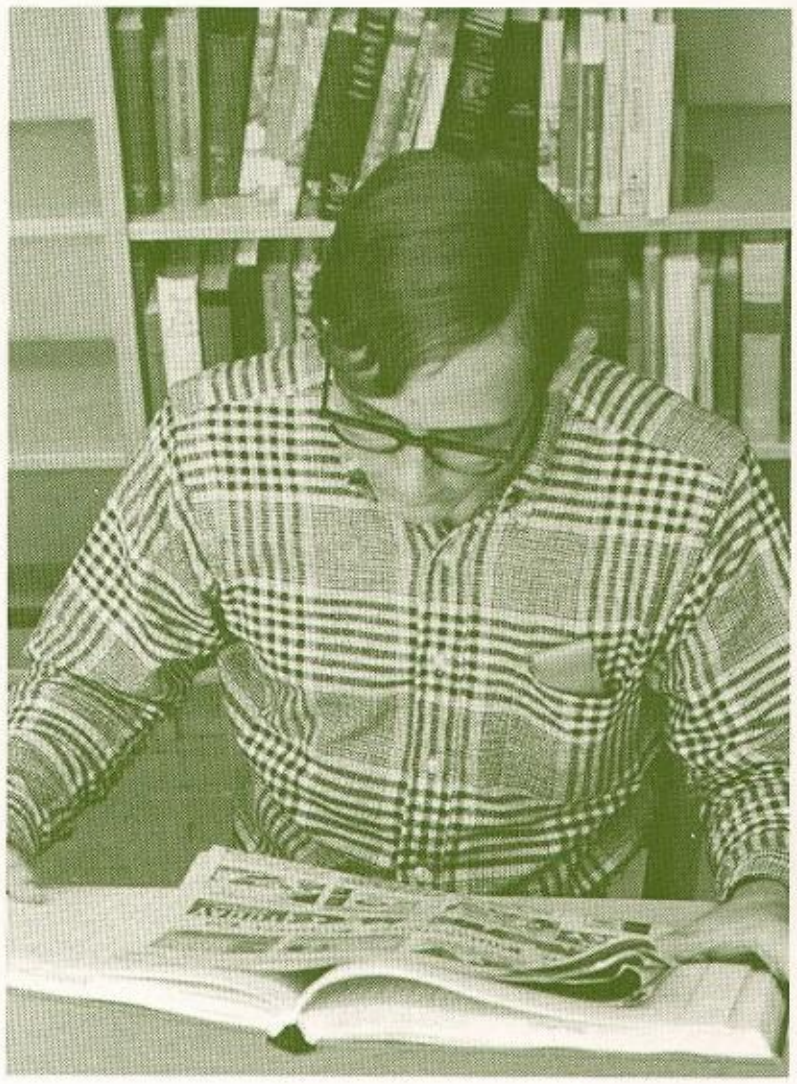
warmth and friendship inside,

a sunny horizon,

a new future . . .

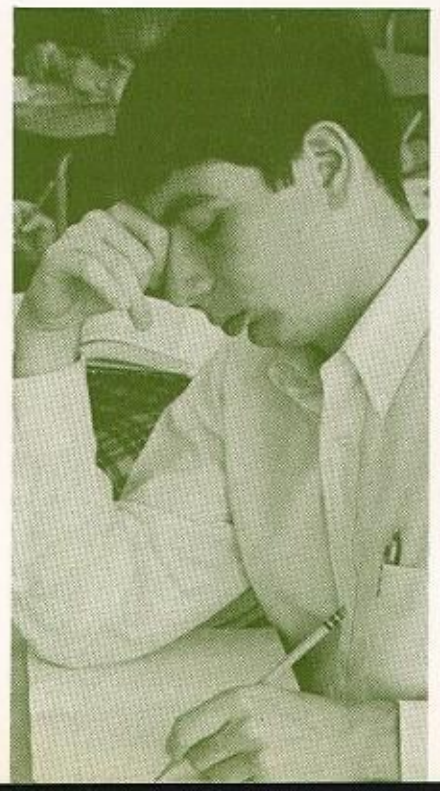
The faces of study,

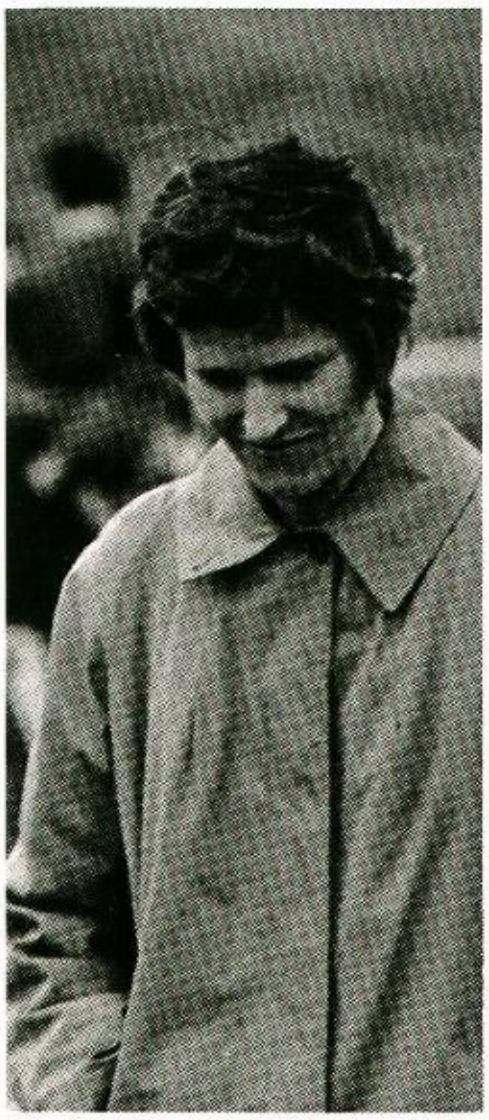
It is well to read everything of something, and something of everything.
—Brougham



Great discoveries and improvements invariably involve the co-operation of many minds.
—Bell

The three foundations of learning: seeing much, suffering much, and studying much.
—Catherall





Faith, mighty faith, the promise sees,
And looks to that alone;
Laughs at impossibilities,
And cries it shall be done.

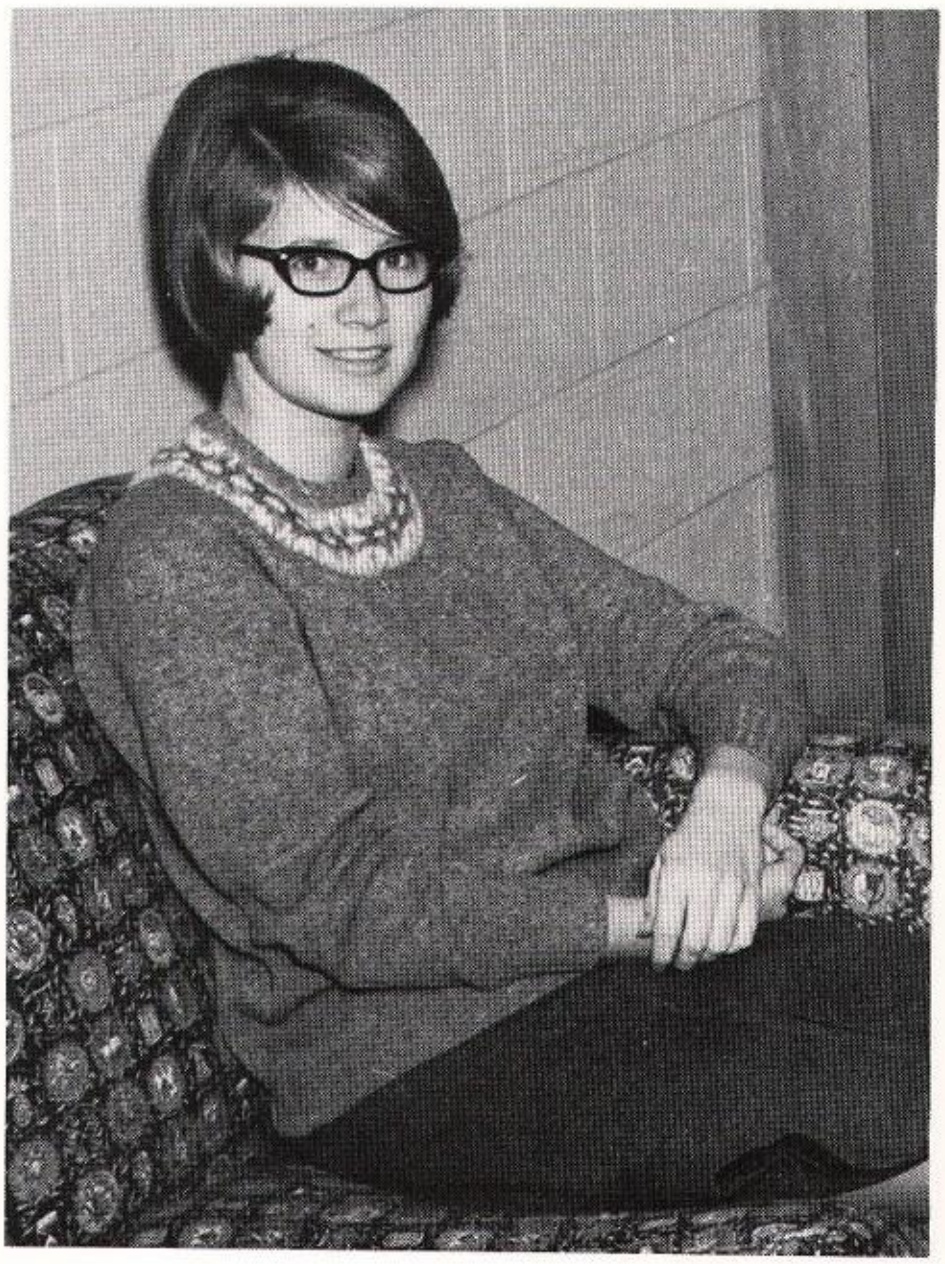
Faces that teach us the



Barbara Legat

Dear Methacton Students,

We wish to express our deepest gratitude for your friendly way of accepting us in your school and for the help you have given us in knowing the real picture of the United States of America and its people. Your friendliness made it possible for us to have a truly memorable time during our stay.

Through your understanding and kindness we have gained a broader knowledge of your great country, and all of the experiences which we have encountered have been new and very exciting for us.

To be able to learn, as well as to live the American student's high school life for one year, was the most rewarding and the most fruitful part of our lives. Your loyalty to your Alma Mater, the school spirit you keep in your hearts, your con-meaning of gained friendships . . .

Amelia Alegria

geniality toward foreign students and other people, and your good behavior made us feel so proud to be among you. Thank you all for the wonderful year you shared with us.

We also want to thank the American Field Service, especially the local A.F.S. Chapter of Methacton, the Collegeville Rotary Club, our teachers, and the school administration as a whole.

The experience of living in your country for a year gave a new sense of meaning to all of our intellectual and personal activities. The year we spent in the United States, especially at Methacton, helped us gain a lifetime of new insight, feeling, and sense of purpose. For all of these, we thank you.

Gratefully yours,

Barbara and Amy

Our Senior Class was indeed fortunate in having as members Barbara Legat and Amy Alegria. During the year they spent with us, these two foreign students were wonderful emissaries from their homelands — Austria and the Philippines. They contributed greatly to our school by their participation in various class activities. We enjoyed having them with us, and we hope they in turn had a memorable stay at Methacton.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

This honorary organization, under the guidance of Mr. Croner and the leadership of Sally Reiner, President; Ray Bosler, Vice President; Lynn Hansell, Secretary; and Rosemary Santora, Treasurer, has been formed to give recognition to the outstanding scholars of Methacton who are of high character and have rendered outstanding service or leadership to the school. The main function of this group is to sponsor an annual dinner to recognize scholastic attainment. Spring inductions to the Honor Society were made after this publication was completed.

VARSITY "M" CLUB

The "M" Club is a service organization for the male varsity letter winners of Methacton High School. The boys, under the direction of Mr. Croner, provide the school with their services when needed, and they help conduct the annual faculty varsity basketball game.

Exhibiting

Miss Dolman points out the essentials of good layout design.

The staff of the school newspaper, SMOKE SIGNALS, is a very active school organization which presents Methacton students and their community with interesting news of student, faculty, administrative, and community activities. Under the direction of Miss Dolman and the two Editors-in-Chief, Debbie Clark and Steve James, the staff helps to promote school spirit, cooperation and understanding among administration, faculty and students.

Editing the newspaper keeps the staff of the Smoke Signals busy.

Mixed emotions are expressed by staff members, while checking a new edition of the paper.

The student has

Although many of these are masks of unreality,

many faces.

we may often catch a true reflection of his inner self.

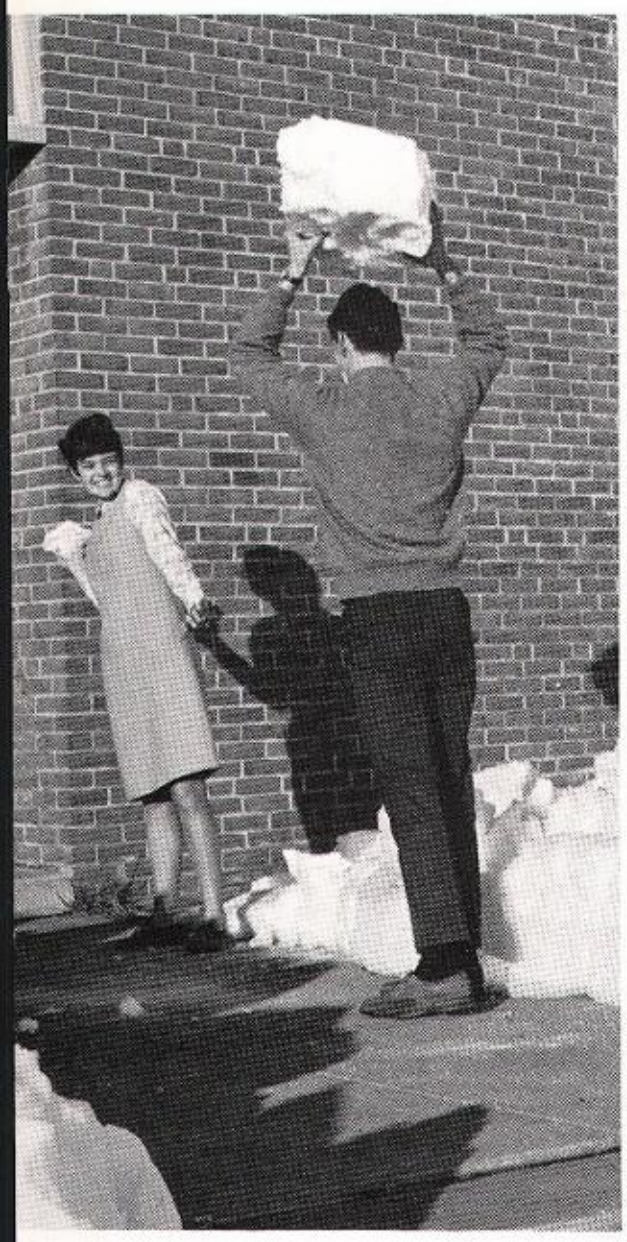
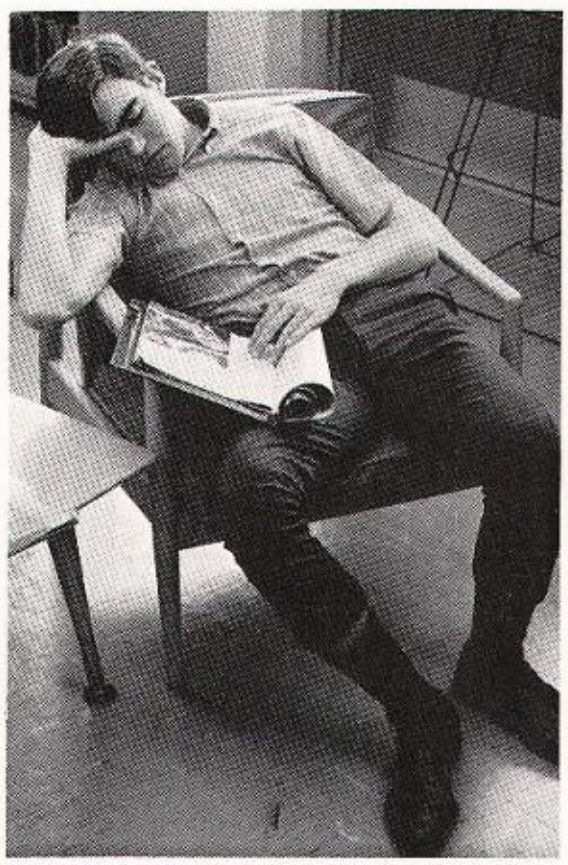
This is the face of a true individual;

But it reflects a living spirit that will not deceive—



it may glow with triumph and soon darken with dismay . . .



as many faces do.

He must not be remembered as a name

found, someday, engraved on a desk . . .

He leaves behind not a footprint preserved for a moment in the sand,

he will leave his mark in a memory,

a spirit,

or a heart;

But a monument kept forever on the road of life.

. . . They are a race that never yet has been discovered. And the whole secret, power, and knowledge of their own discovery is locked within them — they know it, feel it, have the whole thing in them.
